Publication Committee Picks Editors, Business Managers

Editors of three University publications and business managers of the Bee Gee News and Key were selected by the Publication Committee this week.

The new staff heads are: Bee Gee News—Jean Harshman, editor; John Barber, business manager; Key—Wilma Stone, editor; Gloria Wissler, business manager; Freshman Handbook—Alice White, editor.

Appointments were made from applications submitted to the committee, and applicants were judged on training and previous experience on University publications. All the appointees have had at least two years of experience on student publications and all are journalism minors.

Jean Harshman served as managing editor of the News this year and in her freshman year she was a feature writer and special reporter. She was editor of the 1943 Freshman Handbook.

John Barber has been circulating manager of the News and last year was assistant circulation manager. He also has been a Key department head.

Wilma Stone was an associate editor of the Key this year and for the 1943 Key she served as a department head. Gloria Wissler has been advertising manager of the 1944 Key and was on the advertising staff last year.

Alice White has been a member of the Key editorial staff for two years.

Two assistant editors for the Key and an editor and business manager of the summer Bee Gee News are yet to be chosen by the Committee.

1944 Year-Book Is Off The Press

The 1944 Key is "off the press" and at the binders in Chicago, according to Helen Pugh, managing editor, and June 19 has been set as the tentative date for distribution.

Notices will be posted in the Well as to the exact time and method of distribution.

This will not only be the largest key ever produced, but several hundred more copies will be distributed than ever before in the yearbook's twenty-three year history. A total of 1850 copies of the 1944 book are being printed, and some 800 will be mailed to members of the armed forces who have ordered them.

The book contains a number of surprises and novel features. One of the "books" into which this edition is divided is devoted to the military and contains 500 pictures of former Bowling Green students in service. Class and V-12 representatives and Key beauties will be revealed for the first time.

Preceding distribution, the drawing to determine the holder of the "lucky padded cover" will be held in the recreation hall. The ticket stub given as a receipt during registration in September must be produced by the winner. A substantial prize has been provided, according to the editor.

Group Divides Activity Fees

The Activities Fees Committee has announced the following distribution of fees for the term beginning July 1, 1944:

Athletics	38.9 percent
Entertainment
Course	17.7 "
Bee Gee News	14.2 "
Social Committee	17.7 "
Dramatics	11.5 "

The following distribution has been announced for fall and spring terms, 1944 and 1945.

1. $1.75 from each civilian fee shall go to the Key.
2. The remainder of civilian fees and all Navy fees shall be distributed as follows:
Athletics	45.2 percent
Entertainment	8.9 "
Music	4.9 "
Bee Gee News and Freshman Hdbk.	12.0 "
Social Committee	13.9 "
Speech Activities	13.0 "
Student Council	0.7 "
Reserve	1.4 "

Opera Contralto Sings Here Soon

Three hundred opera performances in a single season is the record made by Hertha Glaz, young Metropolitan contralto, who is coming to the University for a recital June 14.

This singing marathon took place when she was 18 years old. She compiled this record by singing in opera, substituting in roles other than her own, giving concerts, and singing over the radio.

Viennese-born, Miss Glaz is a European artist who has come to live in the United States since the war started. Her first visit to this country was in 1937 when she appeared with the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra. Miss Glaz has been a leading contralto with the Metropolitan since the season of 1942-43. On Christmas Night of 1942 she made her Met debut as Amneris in "Aida."

She is an accomplished pianist, knows symphonic literature as well as operatic, and is often seen in the audience at concerts. Not only interested in the arts, Miss Glaz is an enthusiastic supporter of outdoor sports.

Her philosophy is that to achieve true greatness as a singer, one cannot concentrate solely on his chosen medium but must be interested in art in all its forms.

Admission to the recital will be by Activity cards for University students.

Shakespearian Comedy Will Be In Amphitheatre This Week

"As You Like It," a Shakespearian comedy of "a lover and his lass" will be staged in the Amphitheater this Thursday and Friday evening at 9, according to Elden T. Smith, director. In case of rain on either of the nights, that night's performance will be given Saturday night.

Wallace Jorganson will take the part of Orlando. He was first seen in the University production, "Mr. Pim Passes By," and before coming to Bowling Green, had radio and dramatic experience at St. Olaf's College in Minnesota.

Eva Marie Saint, as Rosalind, will play the role which famous actresses since the time of Shakespeare have portrayed. She had the lead role in "Personal Appearance" last fall.

This is the third University production in which Leo Hartig has appeared, the other two being "The Old Maid," and "Mr. Pim Passes By." The Duke is his role in this play.

The complete cast is as follows: Duke, Leo Hartig; Frederick, Robert Ross; Amiens, George Brown; Jacques, E. T. Smith; Le Beau, Robert Sonderegger; Charles, Carl Jones; Oliver, Kenneth Ryckener; Jacques, P. Edward Caley; Orlando, Wallace Jorganson; Adam, Barton Church; Dennis, Kenneth McGaw; Touchstone, John Henry Wilson; Corin, Charles Hutchinson; Silvius, Jack McCabe; William, Tom Miller; Foresters: Samuel Carbus, Ray Bowman, and Ralph Hendricks;

New Dorm Plans Are Complete

- - It Won't Be Long - -

Five Houses Are For Men

"The University is now completing plans for very greatly enlarged living accommodations on campus," announced Pres. Frank J. Prout last week when sketches of five new dormitories were put on display in the Well.

"From now on, additional dormitories will be largely those of the cottage type in order to get away from the institutional atmosphere of large dormitories," he added.

Construction of these five new dormitories for men will begin as soon as the War Productions Board releases building materials, according to Dr. Prout.

Thomas Brand, state architect, drew up the plans for the new buildings. They will be located between Kohl Hall and the riding stables on the ground where the faculty gardens were last summer. Main entrances of the dormitories will open on a court facing Wooster street.

The cottages are all alike in construction. On the ground floor three entrances open from a large terrace across the front. One of these entrances opens into a reception hall. To the left of the reception hall is the lounge, and behind the lounge, facing the back, is a guest room and bath. On the right of the reception hall there is a large dining room with two entrances opening on the terrace.

The kitchen is on the right of the dining room and behind the kitchen is the matron's suite of two rooms. A short corridor runs behind the dining room and reception hall and ends in a rear entrance leading out into the drive. Another outside exit is in the kitchen. Doors in the reception hall are arranged to slide back, so that the lounge, hall, and dining room may be thrown together for dancing.

The first floor is made up entirely of nine rooms for dressing and study and a bath. Each of the study rooms is furnished with two tables, two dressers, and two large closets, thus accommodating four men in each.

On the second floor are nine sleeping rooms which will hold

University Daisy Maes Get Their Men

By JEAN NEWMAN

It's no fault of the wimmin folk effen Sadie didn't get her man after the Hawkins Dance held in the Men's Gym Saturday night. Bee Gee Sadie even called for him to be sure they arrived at exactly 8:30. She took him a corsage, too, of such edibles as little green onions, asparagus, carrots and scalloped radishes. And he wore it.

Charlie Hauser's 10-piece band supplied the music. Charlie studied at Bowling Green the first semester of this year. His rhythm, it should be remarked, was not at all in keeping with the corn shuck atmosphere. Guests were able to dance upon the straw-strewn floor, and bales of the stuff were used as chairs for the lookers-on. Of course, they were cautioned by properly placed signs—"No feudin allowed", "Park your things here", and "Buy Redmans Tobacco!"

Dogpatch would envy the assortment of Daisy Maes who lined up for the grand march to decide the best-dressed woman. Delta Gamma's Bette Roote was the lady of the evening in her striking ensemble of an 1860 petticoat, widely striped stockings, and hob-nail shoes. She carried her favorite rag doll over her arm.

While the judges retired to make their decision, Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, sponsor of the dance presented gifts to Alpha Chi Omega Mary Tomlinson and ATO Chuck Ball, Bee Gee's Daisy Mae and L'il Abner by campus vote. Gwen Kinsey and Ray Davis were the lucky couple who won the door prize, and they had their page 181 from the Montgomery Ward catalogue to prove it, too. This same A/S Davis, with friends Wash Hotsko and Bill Gantz volunteered later when a few strong male voices were needed for "a little close harmony". They "sooooooed" their very best at the three piglets placed in the fenced-off portion in front of the bandstand. A/S Bill Gantz was judged best hog caller.

In keeping with the spirit of the day, a number of the Daisy Maes led their respective L'il Abners through a few dance pieces. The most courteous of the group waited on her choice for the evening hand and foot. She even took him walking on that nice moon-lit night... and then she took him home.

Two Profs Join Summer Faculty

Pres. Frank J. Prout has announced the addition of two new members to the faculty for the term beginning July 1. Additions are to be made in the departments of art, education, and psychology.

Miss Katherine Crossman, Rochester, Minn., will become a new member of the Art staff. She taught formerly in Rochester Junior High School.

Addition to the summer education faculty will be C. G. Keck, superintendent of schools at Shelby. He will teach a course in education guidance.

Dr. Maurice Newberger, director of the Bureau of Juvenile Research, will return to the summer faculty again this year teaching "Treatment of a Problem Child." Dr. Newberger taught during the summer session last year.

Coeds at the Delta Gamma house wish it were a little closer to the Easter season. Six baby rabbits, inhabitants of a hollow in the ground near the trees in their lawn, would be just the thing for an Easter basket. The bunnies, which have brown fur with white markings and hazel eyes, each weigh about a pound.

Deans Hire New Secretary

New secretary to Deans Ralph G. Harshman and James Robert Overman is Mrs. Lowell Bluhm, who has just moved to Bowling Green from Sandusky. She was graduated from Sandusky High School in 1939 and attended Sandusky Business College. When interviewed her only comment was, "Bowling Green is a very nice town."

Mrs. Bluhm is the wife of PIKA "Jack" Bluhm since May 26. Jack is one of the war veterans attending the University under the War Rehabilitation Program.

Alumni Produce Radio Program

The Alumni Association of the University broadcast during the regular time Saturday.

In addition to brief talks by Dr. Walter A. Zaugg and Dean Clyde Hisson, three alumni of the University sang.

Miss Tedca Arnold, '43, Miss Joan Brown, '42, and Clement Premo, '25, were on the program. Wallace Jorgenson was the student announcer.

Grainger Gives 'Personal Touch' To Program With Introductions

By BETTY ROSENCRANS

With an introduction before many of his selections which added a personal touch to his distinguished program, Percy Grainger, renowned pianist, was presented in concert to a large receptive audience last Thursday in the Auditorium. His explanations as to the meaning and composer of different compositions made the concert one of the most entertaining in the series.

The unit of Brahms was one of the best received by the audience. Two Intermezzi and two Rhapsodies with their range from the soft and gentle to the dynamic and energetic portrayed the prolific composer that was Brahms.

"The Man I Love" by George Gershwin injected Americana into the program and showed the talent of this great American composer as heard from the concert platform.

Paraphrase on Tchaikovsky's "Flower Waltz" from the "Nutcracker Suite" arranged by Mr. Grainger brought a climatic end to the program.

The concert opened with a Prelude & Fugue, A minor, for organ by Bach-Liszt, and included "The Carmen's Whistle" by Byrd, "Handelian Rhapsody" by Scott, Ballade by Grieg, "Folk-tune" by Goossens, "Mere" by Gardiner and the works by Brahms, Gershwin, and Tchaikovsky-Grainger.

Mr. Grainger responded with an encore following each section of his program and three final encores. As one of the final encores he played his own "Country Gardens".

Distinguished appearance, courtly manner, English accent, perfect technique, and pianist's hands—these were impressions given by Percy Grainger from the stage. Backstage after the performance, Mr. Grainger was busily answering questions, signing autographs, and wiping the tedious effects of his perspiring brow. At close range Mr. Grainger is a much shorter man than he appears on the stage.

His stance and impressive dignity make him appear taller to the audience. Onstage or backstage, Mr. Grainger is a distinguished member of the concert ranks.

The concert at Bowling Green is near the end of a tour which started September first. The tour has taken him to all sections of the United States and Canada. This summer he will spend at the famous National Music Camp at Interlochen, Mich.

Mr. Grainger's home is in White Plains, N. Y. He is a native Australian and has visited his homeland several times, the last time in 1939. He has toured England, South America, Holland, and Scandinavia as well as America and Australia.

"Country Gardens," the favorite recital piece of many a student when he was taking elementary piano lessons, was written by Mr. Grainger and played at the concert as only a composer can play his own composition. This is the best known among his many works.

Mr. Grainger included in his program "The Man I Love" by George Gershwin. Many members of the audience had heard the song over the radio and on phonograph records, but few had ever heard it played from a concert stage. The true beauty of Gershwin's composition was interpreted. When asked why he chose the work of Gershwin as the only American composer to appear on his program he said, "I chose Gershwin because I think he is a genius."

Mr. Grainger remarked that he enjoyed being here and said, "The Bowling Green audience was very nice, and very receptive."

Prof. John Schwarz, chairman, and the Assembly Program Committee deserve praise for the program of assemblies which they have brought to the University this year.

Climaxed by the appearance of Percy Grainger and Hertha Glaz, the year's series has featured other celebrities in addition to student-produced programs.

These assemblies are only part of a well-rounded schedule of events at Bowling Green designed to make the students' life more interesting.

The all-campus movies and plays, sponsored by the department of speech, in addition to the assembly programs, rate the applause of every member of the student body.

• growing pains ...

Bowling Green State University is growing up.

Records show that a great many more coeds than ever before have already registered for school for the fall term beginning Nov. 1.

In keeping with the rapid growth of the school, the students here should try to progress as rapidly. The building of traditions is important. But these traditions should be strong and the kind which are worth perpetuating.

The attitude of students, in competition—both intercollegiate and within the University, should be above reproach. The appearance of the students themselves and off the campus on which they live and work should be in keeping with the position of the University.

Are you growing up with Bowling Green or are you lagging behind?

• important things happen...

With the beginning of the invasion yesterday, we realized the importance of things happening in this world of ours. We have spent the last 48 hours listening to news broadcasts at every opportunity, and eagerly following the opening campaign in the newspapers. The excitement today reminds us of the frantic days following Pearl Harbor when we felt a strong desire to get out and do something. We have that same feeling now, and again ask ourselves what we can do to help?

There is something we can do. College students have always been notably ignorant of world news, either because of indifference or lack of time. There will come a time, following this first flush of excitement, when we will tend to lose interest in the invasion and pay less attention to the broadcasts and newspapers. We will get lost in the maze of military and economic tactics involved and give up trying to follow the campaign as many students gave up following the action in the Pacific.

This time, let's not let this indifference creep in. History is being made, and in years to come we will regret not taking this opportunity to gain a background of understanding of events now occurring.

We students may not have a voice in making the peace, but it will be our duty when we leave school to strive to maintain peace. Only a knowledge of world affairs will give us the ability we will need.

Students at Bowling Green, both civilian and military, will benefit by a few minutes each day devoted to reading a newspaper or news magazines and listening to a news broadcast.

Let's keep up with the world!

Coeds Will Have Joint Handbook

Four women's organizations will publish a handbook to be distributed to all of the coeds at the University next fall.

Instead of having separate WSGA and YWCA booklets, these two will be combined with material submitted by the WAA and Panhellenic Council.

The handbook, to be compiled by representatives of each of the organizations, is being edited by Jean Harshman.

It will contain WSGA rules, the year's program of the YWCA and WAA and the sorority rushing rules of Panhellenic Council.

bee gee birthday

In the past, Bowling Green has celebrated its birthday each year with a University Anniversary Prom. At that time, the history of the school is recalled. It is wise to stop for a minute to consider the past and to look into the future.

The University, after an act of the Ohio General Assembly, opened in temporary quarters in 1914. The next year

Bowling Green is one of five state-operated Universities in Ohio. It was planned to meet the needs of the students in Northwestern Ohio. Other state universities are Ohio State, Columbus; Kent State, Kent, Ohio, Athens, and Miami, Oxford.

In the short period of 30 years the school has grown to its present size. Growth was somewhat stunted by the war but the effects were not disastrous because of the V-5 and V-12 units here.

Other plans have been formulated in addition to the proposed quadrangle of men's residences. They are plans which will probably make us gasp with astonishment when we return for commencement 10 years from now.

"D" Day Thrills Bee Gee Campus

"D" Day had come. Early yesterday all of the students were told of the startling news as paper boys sold extras over the campus and news reports were blazed out over a University-wide public address system.

Plans are being made, according to Prof. Jesse J. Currier, to have a large map of the western front in one of the halls along with hourly bulletins tellings of the progress of the Allies.

Bishops Break Falcons' Win Streak In Doubleheader

The Bowling Green baseball team ran its victory string to 9 straight victories as they beat Ohio Wesleyan 5 to 0 in the first game of a doubleheader at Delaware Saturday. However in the night cap Wesleyan came back to break the Falcons' record by beating them 3 to 1.

Bowling Green 5,
Ohio Wesleyan 0

The Falcons won their ninth straight game as Al DiMarco limited the Bishops to six hits and no runs. This was DiMarco's fourth shut out the season.

The Stellersmen jumped into the lead the very first inning. After Whitehead flied out, DiMarco was hit by a pitched ball, then was awarded second base when Estep, Bishop pitcher, balked. A passed ball by Lewis, Wesleyan catcher, allowed DiMarco to go to third. Kuhlman singled to center scoring DiMarco, then stole second. After Woods grounded out, Aeschliman smacked one through the pitchers box, scoring Kuhlman. The Falcons led 2 to 0.

Bee Gee added two more in the fifth inning. Tenhundfeld singled to center field, then was sacrificed down to second by Conley. Whitehead struck out as Tenhundfeld stole third. DiMarco next up was hit for the second time, then stole second. Kuhlman drove a long single to left center scoring Tenhundfeld and DiMarco.

Bee Gee's final run came in the first half of the seventh inning when Tenhundfeld doubled to left, went to third on Conley's long fly out and scored when Whitehead grounded out shortstop to first base.

Wesleyan's only threat came in the last of the seventh inning when they loaded the bases with a double, a single and a hit batter. Two strike outs and a long fly out to center field ended the game.

Ohio Wesleyan 3,
Bowling Green 1

The Bishops gave the Falcons their second defeat of the season in the night cap as Peterson limited Bowling Green to six hits with his "nothing ball".

Dick Marshall, Wesleyan first baseman, led off in the Bishops' half of the second inning with a double down the left field line. Hittmeier, Bishop second baseman, drew a walk. Sanborn, Wesleyan center fielder, hit one to Whitehead who threw wild to first base. Marshall scored on the wild throw and Hittmeier raced to third. Estep grounded out advancing Sanborn to second base. With Lewis up to bat, Whitehead let loose a wild pitch and Hittmeier scored. The Bishops led by two runs.

Bowling Green's only score came in the fourth inning when center-fielder Sanborn muffed Aeschliman's medium line drive. Aeschliman advanced to third base after McMillan caught Martin's high fly in right field. Jeremiah singled to center field and Aeschliman scored.

In the Bishop half of the fifth inning Hagemeister led off with a double down the left field line. Marshall singled into right center scoring Hagemeister for the final run of the game.

Cpl. Douglas Has Sports Interest

Like most of the members of the Ship's Company, Cpl. Rollin E. Douglas has made a reputation for himself in athletics. While attending high school at Leavittsburg, he participated in track, baseball, tennis and golf. He represented his high school for two years in each event.

Because the school was not in any conference it never attended state tournament of various sorts. Leavittsburg did compete against schools who later set records in state meets.

After completion of high school he entered the Republic Steel College located at Warren. The only sports that it recognized was baseball and golf, and in both Douglas played a prominent part. In 1940 he placed high in the state amateur golf meet, and the following year he finished as runner-up.

Following this his participation was transferred to a member of the Marine Corps basketball team at New River, N. C. For three years he played American Legion baseball for Warren, also representing athletics in baseball and basketball.

During his stay at Bowling Green he is often seen on the basketball court keeping in good condition. He is now a member of the Ship's Company team in the intramural softball program.

The table tennis doubles title was won by Pts. Tom Hermes and James Feeley over A/S Howard and A/S Hochanadel in two straight games, 21-17 and 21-13.

Present Decade Has Seen More Feminine Interest In Baseball

By DORIS BRICKNER

It has only been lately—in the last ten years—that women have begun taking an interest in the game of baseball. And consequently, it is only now that they have gotten to the point where they can distinguish between a foul ball and an umpire, first base and left field, and the small, but necessary difference between The Cleveland Indians and Sitting Bull's Tribe. All this tends to make baseball loom larger in the ladies' sports enjoyment.

Not so long ago it was not unusual to have one of the gentler sex return from a baseball game—where she had accompanied her hero, much against his will—and explain the game to her friend something like this:

"You know, Maisie, I was out to the baseball game with Eddie today. Did I enjoy it? Why, Maisie, I was positively thrilled. There's practically nothing to it. There are two teams: one is called the Falcons, or something, and the other team—well, I forgot their name, but I don't like their clothes anyway. They wear kind of a romper suit, with pants and a blouse and shoes with ridges on the soles. I think Eddie called them 'cleats', or maybe it was 'spikes'."

"As I was saying: there are two teams, one of these teams stands out in a field. Some of them are on things called 'bases'. Eddie didn't say why they have bases, but I suppose it has something to do with the game. Then the other team sits and watches one of their men stand in front of a thing called 'homeplate' with a stick on his shoulder. I think he is the umpire. One of the fellows on the other team throws a ball and tries to hit this stick the other fellow is holding, and if he does the ball goes up in the air, sometimes, and then this fellow drops his stick and runs toward one of those bases. Third base it is. The men in the field try to pick up the ball, or catch it, and throw it to a base before somebody gets there, then he is 'out' or 'in', I forget which.

"And all during the game a fellow stands in front of that wire thing and hollers something like 'ball two', or 'strike three.' I don't know who won, at least not for sure. The score was two apiece and the man who throws the ball hit that stick so hard that the ball flew over the fence, and everybody went home. It was very exciting. Let's go to the game tomorrow. Maybe more fellows will be playing and then it'll be even more exciting—good-bye, Maisie."

But that is all changed now. These days the coeds know who is playing whom; the batting averages of the players; how Burt's slow curve stacks up against Smith's change of pace, and the Cardinal's chances for another World Series Crown.

Summer school students will go to football games this year. The whole schedule, which will be published in next week's Bee Gee News, will be played during the summer term—another oddity caused by the war.

Team "B" Beats Team "A" 5-0 In Coed's All-star Softball Game

Team "B" behind the four hit pitching of Virginia Smith won 5 to 0 over team "A" in annual Coed's Softball All-Star game last Monday evening.

Team "B" batted all the way around in the very first inning. Dorothy Luedtke singled followed by a steal to second and third. Virginia Smith walked. Mary Mead struck and missed the first pitch as Smith attempted to steal second. An overthrow to second scored Luedtke from third and advanced Smith to second. Dorothy Hall hit a two bagger scoring Smith. Jean Watt drew a base on balls. Marilyn Whitacre singled, scoring Hall and sending Watt to second. Bonnie Sawyer, next up, singled, advancing all players, Watt scoring from third. Ruth Horton flied out ending the first half of the first inning. The "B" team had a margin of four runs.

Lois Kochlaun, the first batter for team "A", smacked a three base hit, but the next three batters flied out leaving Kochlaun stranded on third.

Dorothy Hall started the third inning for team "B" by hitting a two bagger. Watt, next up, hit a double which scored Hall for team "B's fifth run. Whitacre flied out to short center. Bonnie Sawyer hit a single, sending Watt to third. The next two batters flied out ending the scoring for that inning.

Jean Watt brought thrills to the spectators in the fourth inning when she caught a towering high fly with one hand.

Team "B's last score came in the last inning. Watt singled. Lucille Pope hit a high foul to the catcher. Miriam Snively hit a two bagger and Watt slid home with the sixth run.

The teams were chosen by the Umpires; Miss Carolyn Shaw, faculty advisor; and Beverly Millins student director of the softball league.

Falcon Trackmen Cop Fifth Meet by Defeating Miami

The Falcon trackmen won their fifth straight meet of the season against Miami University at Oxford, Ohio, Saturday by the margin of 78 to 49. Leading all the way the Falcons took all places in the 220 yard run, the discus and the broad jump.

The Bowling Green half mile quartet composed of A/S Will Lytle, A/S Terry Carey, Pvt. Roscoe Rorabough, and Ralph Klein broke the record for the half mile for the second time this season. They clipped four tenths of a second off the old record of one minute and 32 seconds, bringing the record down to one minute 31 and six tenths seconds.

Pvt. Dave Robinson broke his own discus record set a few weeks ago. He tossed the discus 132 feet and three inches which is three inches farther than the old record.

Pvt. Bob Marotz who has been improving steadily in the two mile run came through to win the event with the time of 10 minutes 41 and seven tenths seconds.

In the low and hurdles Pvt. Roscoe Rorabough suffered his first defeat of the season as Miami's ace hurdler Harlan Fischer beat him by a few seconds. Fischer is ranked as one of the best hurdlers in the United States.

Miami showed its usual skill in the distance runs by winning the mile and placing second and third in the two mile event.

The results of the meet are as follows:

880 yd. relay won by (B.G.), Klein, Rorabough, Carey, Lytle, Time 1:31.6

Trackmen Go To Berea Saturday

The Falcon track team was scheduled to compete in a dual meet with Baldwin-Wallace College at Berea, Ohio this Saturday, but a late report from Baldwin-Wallace has altered the meet.

They have sent out invitations for a National AAU to be held at Berea Saturday instead of the dual meet. Baldwin-Wallace, Case and the Falcons will have their complete teams represented, although the meet will only be for individual honors.

Baldwin-Wallace has lost all three of its meets so far this season. Case lost to the Falcons early in the season.

The Falcon team as individuals should make an excellent showing.

BaldwinWallace Plays Here Sat.

The Falcon baseball team will play their 11th and 12th game of the season here Saturday in a double header against Baldwin-Wallace College from Berea, Ohio. The game will start at approximately 1:30 p.m.

Monday evening at 6:30 p.m. the Falcon second stringers will meet the Toledo Naval Station Nine on the local diamond. The Sailors are a member of the Toledo Federation of baseball clubs. The Falcon varsity beat the Sailors 18 to 2 at Toledo two weeks ago.

June 17 the Falcons go to Denison University at Granville, Ohio for the final doubleheader of the season.

Intramurals

As the V-12 softball tourney enters its last week, Co. 4- Pl. 1 looms as the top team in the play-offs as they have a record of four victories in four starts. The other team from the National league which will probably enter the play-offs on June 14 is Co. 5-Pl. 1 as they have won three and lost one.

The National league has only one more date scheduled before the play-offs start while the American league has two more dates, June 6 and 13.

In the American league the race is somewhat in doubt as only one team has a clean record. Co. 2-Pl.1 has won two and lost none, but second place is involved in a two way tie between Co. 2-Pl. 2 and the Ship's Company with one win and one loss.

The complete standings of each team in their respective leagues is given below.

National League (Navy)			American League (Marines)
Platoon	Won	Lost	Platoon	Won	Lost
3-1	2	2	1-1	1	2
3-2	1	3	1-2	1	2
4-1	4	0	2-1	2	0
4-2	1	3	2-2	1	1
5-1	3	1	Ship's Co.	1	1
5-2	1	3

Individual tournaments are completed in both handball and table tennis.

In the handball singles Roger Powell defeated Dick Weech for the title in two games out of three. The winner was forced to play in a total of five matches before winning the title of singles champion. There were thirty-two entries in the tourney which took over three weeks to complete.

In the doubles Pts. Don Mohr and Al DiMarco won the title by defeating Pts. Jim Daum and Dan Santivica in two games out of three. The ultimate winners were forced to go the full length in all three games by their final opponents.

The table tennis title went to Pvt. Brenton Kirk in a win over Pvt. James Feeley in two straight games.

As You Like It Is Week-End Entertainment

Thursday and Friday nights of this week will bring the presentation of "As You Like It" to the Amphitheater by the University Players. In case of rain Thursday, the play will be given Friday and Saturday nights.

The Social Committee has announced it will not schedule entertainment other than the play this week-end, since almost all the students will attend the play one night. With examinations approaching, the Committee believes that many students will welcome extra time to study without having to feel that by studying they will be left out of campus entertainment. This will be the first week-end of the year when some form of entertainment has not been scheduled. It has been the custom in previous years to leave a few week-ends open in this manner for the students to do as they like.

So we'll see you at the play one night, and at home getting those term papers finished the other!

Quill Type Club Picnics, Elects

The Quill-Type Business Club will have a picnic this evening at 5:30 at the City Park. Officers for the coming year will be elected at this time.

War Drive Hits Peak

Gamma Phi Betas of the local Beta Gamma chapter have sold $7,125.00 worth of war bonds in the sorority's national campaign to raise $100,000. The $100,000 will be spent in purchasing a hospital service plane for transporting the wounded and medical supplies. Gamma Phi Beta is the first international sorority to undertake this kind of project.

Forty-eight college and 90 active chapters are participating in the drive, which began April 26 and will end June 6.

Members of the Bowling Green chapter report that they have raised the amount of $7,125.00 chiefly through correspondence with parents, relatives, and alumnae, who pledge their bonds to Gamma Phi Beta when they purchase them. All bonds not already pledged to another organization are included.

Dorothy Hodgkins is chairman of the local drive.

Phi Sigma Mu Will Have Picnic

Phi Sigma Mu, national honorary music fraternity, will have its annual picnic for the Department of Music at the City Park tonight.

Staff Awards Will Be Given At Banquet

The fourth annual Publications Dinner will be Wednesday, June 14, in the Nest. Formal invitations are being mailed this week to staff members of the Bee Gee News, Key, and Freshman Handbook who are worthy of recognition, to members of the Publications Committee, and to representatives of the various companies with which the two publications are connected in business.

Senior awards and keys will be presented, and names will be added to the journalism honor roll.

Holtmeyer Heads Alpha Chi Omega

Newly installed Beta Phi chapter of Alpha Chi Omega installed its officers for the school year 1944-45 last night at ceremonies held at the chapter house. The following officers were installed: President, Janet Holtmeyer; first vice-president, Lois Perrin; second vice-president, Marian Bowen; corresponding secretary, Phyllis Lowe; recording secretary, Dorothy Krosnosky; treasurer, Helen Fling; warden, Marian Organ; chaplain, Alda Douthett; chapter editor, Lois Holtmeyer; librarian, Dorothy Raines.

Hertha Glaz, Metropolitan contralto pictured above, will appear at the University in a concert June 14. Miss Glaz came to this country from Vienna in 1937 and made her Metropolitan debut in "Aida" in 1942. The story of her concert is on page 1.

B. G. Will be Summer Host

Bowling Green State University will be host to a national Recreation School and two state-wide meetings this summer, according to Pres. Frank J. Prout.

For the two weeks from June 24 to July 8, The Cooperative League of the United States will conduct a Recreation School for leaders or prospective leaders in recreation who desire to secure the help of recognized authorities.

For the week commencing Aug. 20, the Farm Bureau of Ohio will conduct a Youth Conference at Bowling Green, and on Aug. 28 a School for Methodist Ministers of Ohio is scheduled.

Included among the faculty members to take part in the Recreation School are Neva L. Boyd, formerly of the Division of Social Work of Northwestern University; John Steinbugler, Industrial Designer of New York City; Blair Von Albrecht, Chicago Art Institute; and Ruth White of the Music Department, Hindman Settlement School, Hindman, Ky.

Recreation School courses are designed to meet the needs of students who will return to work with all types of community groups. The school is financed and controlled by the students who enroll. University dormitories and other facilities will be used by the students.

The school for ministers is a part of the educational program of the Northeast Ohio and the Ohio Conferences of the Methodist Church. Included in the program are courses for new ministers, graduate lectures for experienced preachers, and lectures of general interest among the clergy. This is the second year that the summer school for these conferences has been held at Bowling Green.

The Farm Bureau Youth Conference will bring young men and women from all parts of the state to Bowling Green for lectures, study, and recreation.

Delta Gammas Give Radio Show

Selections taken from the sorority assembly program which won the Student Council award last week were presented by the Delta Gamma sorority in a radio broadcast from the University studio Saturday, May 27.

The program opened with the introductory number—sung by 14 members of the group. This was followed by "Anchors Aweigh D. G." sung by the entire cast. The Delta Gamma Sweetheart Song was next, followed by a "boogie" number played by Olga Sonkoly. Ione Geisel sang "No Love, No Nothing" and Hope McAdams played an accordion solo. Lyrics for the songs were written by Betty Neeb and Ione Geisel. Announcer was Pvt. Jack Lewis.

Sorority seniors will be the dinner guests at the home of Mrs. Sanford Price of Woodville, sorority advisor today.

Work on the British War Relief project of making bathrobes, collecting clothing and making afghans will be continued by the members until the close of the school year.

Alpha Phi's Will Hold Picnic

The Alpha Phi sorority is having a picnic at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Urschel, patron and patroness, Saturday, June 10. Miss Caroline Nielsen, sponsor, will be a guest.

Mrs. Ross Schultz, Bowling Green, is having a supper party for the graduating seniors of the sorority at her home June 12.

'Water, Water Everywhere' And All The Freshmen Thirst

By JOAN WHITACRE

They had to sing—not for their supper, but for their water. Speaking, of course, of the women of Shatzel Hall, who found out the hard way that a meal without water can become very, very dry.

At lunch that day the announcement was made that all the glasses which had been taken from the dining room for one reason or another (unexpected guests at a midnight feast, unexpected midnight feasts, or just too lazy to go downtown and buy their own) would have to be returned that night. Or—no water.

Surprised laughs greeted the sight of the glassless tables that night. Nothing more. After all, water is one of the most plentiful of commodities. It's never been rationed. Water shortages have never threatened. Everyone takes it more or less as a matter of course.

During the lapse between dinner and dessert, one table gave out with a weak "How Dry I Am", followed by a demanding "Roll Out The Barrel". Waitresses ate doggedly on, so the diners lapsed into a pensive, "Drink to Me Only". Then, waxing poetic, they recited a short quote from "The Rime of the Ancient Mariner". The one about "water, water everywhere". Yes, a college education does come in handy sometimes.

Faculty Members Make Summer Plans

Three faculty members who will not be in Bowling Green all summer are Miss Charlotte Skene, Miss Helen Henderson, and Miss Virginia Kershner.

Miss Skene will assist in the Department of Speech at the University of Michigan while she is taking some advanced work there. After teaching here eight weeks, Miss Henderson will attend the American Home Economics convention in Chicago.

Miss Kershner plans to attend the Eastman School of Music at the University of Rochester where she will take advanced work in theory. Later on she will study violin and viola in New York with Hans Letz.

Jensen Plays In Detroit Church

Miss Myrtle Jensen, University organist, is acting as substitute organist at Woodward Avenue Presbyterian Church in Detroit, while the organist is taking his vacation.

Beta Gammas Picnic At Quarry

Approximately 24 members and guests attended the annual Beta Gamma Upsilon fraternity picnic at Portage Quarry Sunday afternoon and evening. Swimming was the chief diversion of the day. Following a period of recreation a picnic lunch was served.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Beatty were faculty guests.

Eloise Barrick Given Party

Mrs. Lowell Weller, the former Eloise Barrick, was given a party by her Gamma Phi Beta sorority sisters Tuesday night, June 6. She was presented with a gift from the sorority. After the party for Eloise, the Gamma Phi's serenaded those men residing off-campus in the fraternity houses.

Alpha Epsilon Has New Sponsors

Two faculty wives, Mrs. R. M. Line and Mrs. W. N. Thompson have accepted positions as sponsor and head of the advisory board, respectively, of Alpha Epsilon.

Jean Curtis, freshman from Youngstown, was formally initiated into Alpha Epsilon sorority, preceding formal installation of officers.

New Dorm Plans
